The City of Mountain View has adopted a Reusable Bag Ordinance to reduce environmental impacts and pollution from plastic bags, reduce waste, and promote a shift towards reusable bags for Zero Waste.

Starting April 22, 2013 (Earth Day), retail stores in Mountain View may not provide plastic carryout bags, and must charge a minimum 10 cents for each paper or reusable bag sold to customers.

Customers may bring their own reusable bags or purchase paper or reusable bags from stores.

Requirements for Retailers Starting April 22, 2013

- The Reusable Bag Ordinance applies to retail establishments selling perishable or nonperishable goods directly to the customer, such as food, clothing, or personal items.

- The ordinance does not apply to restaurants, nonprofit charitable reusers (thrift stores); or stores providing a service (e.g. dry cleaners), unless they also sell goods (e.g. hair salon).

- Starting April 22, 2013, retail stores may not provide single-use plastic carryout bags to customers (plastic carryout bags are banned). Customers may bring their own reusable bags or purchase bags from stores.

- Stores may provide customers with a recycled paper bag or reusable bag, but only if the store charges a minimum price of 10 cents per bag. Stores may exempt customers paying for goods with WIC, CalFresh, SNAP or other food stamp cards from bag charges. Stores retain money collected from bag charges. The 10 cent bag charge is exempt from sales tax.

- Protective bags (without handles) may be provided at no charge for use within the store to segregate and transport items to the cashier (e.g. bags for meat, produce, prescriptions, greeting cards, live fish, or bulk items).

- Paper bags must contain a minimum of 40% postconsumer recycled content, be 100% recyclable, and show other information (p.3).

- Reusable bags must be made of machine-washable fabric; or durable plastic that is at least 2.25 mil thick (not current plastic carryout bags).

- Stores must itemize paper and reusable bag sales on customer receipts, retain records of the number of bag purchases (supply) and bag sales for three years, and provide records if requested by the City.

- Enforcement is on a complaint basis and through spot checks.

City staff will be visiting stores to help retailers educate customers and employees before April 22, 2013.

Tips for Retailers to Stay On Track

- Phase out plastic carryout bags: Use up your current supply or exchange for compliant bags before April 22, 2013. Donate unused supply to nonprofit charitable thrifts or food banks (exempt retail establishments).

- Find a source for recycled paper and reusable bags: Talk to your distributor now to find bags that meet ordinance requirements or use the bag supplier list on page 4.

- Create a record-keeping system by April 22, 2013: Develop a system to track the purchase and sale of paper and reusable bags.
  - Assign bar codes to bags and program cash registers to show bag charges on customer receipts.
  - For a baseline, note how many paper and reusable bags were provided the month before the ordinance was implemented.
  - Keep records at the store for three years.

- Prepare your employees: Teach them to always ask if the customer wants to use their own bags or purchase recycled paper or reusable bags for a minimum charge of 10 cents per bag.
  - Inform cashiers that customers paying for goods with WIC, CalFresh, SNAP food stamp cards may be exempt from bag charges.
  - Understand the reason for the bag charge is to deter the use of paper bags and promote a shift toward the use of reusable bags to reduce waste. Stores retain money collected from bag charges, which are not subject to sales tax.
  - Protective bags include bags for meat, produce, prescriptions, greeting cards, live fish or bulk items (exempt from bag charges). Banned plastic bags do not qualify as protective bags unless handles are removed.

- Prepare your customers: Display window posters and cashier tents. Offer free reusable bags for a promotion before April 22. The City will also educate customers through newspaper advertisements, events and newsletters.

- Get help: The City provides stores with technical assistance to answer questions and provide materials to train employees and educate customers. Call now to schedule an appointment at your store.

Retailer Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Reusable Bag Ordinance?
Starting on Earth Day, April 22, 2013, retail stores in the City of Mountain View may not provide single-use plastic carryout bags (including compostable bags) at the checkout stand. Stores may provide paper bags and reusable bags for a minimum charge of ten cents per bag.

Why is the City of Mountain View adopting a Reusable Bag Ordinance?
- In Mountain View, it is estimated that 40 million single-use plastic bags are used yearly, but less than 5% are recycled. The rest end up in landfills or as litter in waterways, damaging storm water utility systems and harming the marine environment.
- California taxpayers spend $25 million annually to clean up litter, including plastic bags.
- The Municipal Regional Stormwater Permit requires a reduction in plastic bag litter in waterways.
- Ordinances have proven effective in other cities. After one year, San Jose found an 89% reduction in bag litter in storm drains, 60% reduction in streets, and increase in use of reusable bags from 4% to 62%.

Are produce, meat and pharmacy bags allowed?
Protective bags made from paper or plastic, without handles, can be provided if used to:
- Transport prepared food, produce, bulk food or items, meat, produce within a store to the cashier.
- Hold prescription medication from a pharmacy.
- Segregate food or goods that could damage or contaminate other food or goods when placed together in a reusable or recycled paper bag.
Banned plastic carryout bags are not protective bags.

What stores are affected by the ordinance?
The ordinance affects any retail store that sells perishable or nonperishable goods directly to a customer. Examples include grocery, pharmacy, clothing, mini-marts, liquor, video, farmer’s markets, pet and hardware stores.

What businesses are exempt from the ordinance?
- Any public eating establishment that generates 90% or more of its revenue from the sale of prepared food items (e.g. restaurants and fast food).
- Any store providing a service (e.g. dry cleaners), but not if a good is sold (e.g. car wash gift shop).
- Nonprofit charitable reusers (e.g. thrift stores).

Do stores need to charge for bags?
Yes. Stores are required to charge a minimum of ten cents per paper or reusable bag to promote a shift towards the use of reusable carryout bags and reduce waste. A store may charge more for reusable bags (e.g. many bags are sold for $1.00-$3.00, depending on features).

Who keeps the ten cent charge on bags?
Retailers retain the money to help offset costs for record-keeping, training, and bag supplies. The bag charge makes customers aware that there are no free carryout bags.

Do stores need to itemize the sale of bags on the customer receipt? Yes, all sales of paper or reusable bags must be separately itemized on the customer sales receipt, including the ten cent charge per bag.

May stores provide the paper or reusable carryout bags as a promotion, or discount the 10 cent bag charge? A retailer may not discount the 10 cent bag charge, but may offer bags as part of a promotion where the costs of other goods are discounted to compensate for the 10 cent bag charge. For example, buy 10 items for a sales price and get a reusable bag. To prevent complaints about offering “free bags” prohibited by the ordinance, it should be clear to the customer that the other items are discounted to compensate, and a 10 cent bag charge is printed on the receipt.

Do stores need to keep a record of all bags sold?
Yes, stores must keep records of how many reusable and paper bags were purchased by the retailer and sold to customers; and keep 3 years of records available for City inspection at the store.

Will the City assist stores in complying?
City staff will be visiting stores to answer questions and provide a Retailer’s Toolkit and signage. Schedule an appointment now by calling (650) 903-6311 or by emailing recycle@mountainview.gov.

What happens if a store does not comply?
The City will enforce the ordinance on a complaint basis and through spot checks. Repeated non-compliance with the terms of the ordinance, including providing false information or incomplete records, is considered a Mountain View City Code violation, subject to warning, citation and/or fine after April 22, 2013.\[5\]

Will the ten cent charge on all bags stay the same?
Yes. The City Council amended the ordinance in 2014 to keep the 10 cent bag charge because the ordinance is motivating reuse.

Is the paper or reusable 10 cent bag charge taxable?

Is Mountain View the only city banning plastic bags and charging for paper and reusable carryout bags?
Mountain View has joined a regional effort with 24 cities to adopt similar ordinances that will provide consistent regulations in a broad geographical area, lessening confusion for customers and encouraging fair business practices. Cupertino, Los Altos, Los Gatos, Mountain View, Palo Alto, Sunnyvale, San Jose, and County of Santa Clara have adopted ordinances in this county.
